DETAILED ACTION

1. In the remarks filed on September 1, 2009, Applicant amended claims 29, 31-33 and 53, cancelled claims 45-47, added claims 57-59 and submitted arguments for allowability of pending claims 29-44 and 48-59 (claims 34-44, 48-52, 55 and 56 are withdrawn from consideration).

Election/Restrictions

2. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

- A. Figures 1A through 1C, 2, and 3
- B. Figures 4A through 4C, 5, 6A, 6B, 7, and 8
- C. Figures 9 and 10
- D. Figure 11
- E. Figures 12 and 13
- F. Figures 14A, 14B, and 15

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

3. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

- A. Figures 1A through 1C, 2 and 3 – Claims 29-35 and 57-59
- B. Figures 4A through 4C, 5, 6A, 6B, 7 and 8 – Claims 36-43
- C. Figures 9 and 10 - none
- D. Figure 11 – Claims 31-33, 53 and 54
- E. Figures 12 and 13 – Claims 55 and 56
- F. Figures 14A, 14B and 15 – Claims 48-52

There are no generic claims.

4. The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

- A. Species A has the special technical feature of having a gap or an interval between a recording layer and a reflecting layer larger than a wavelength of the laser beam of Figures 1A through 1C, 2 and 3.
- B. Species B has the special technical feature of detecting the tilt of an optical disk by using an output of a photo detector which receives a dispersed beam dispersed on a dispersing part of an optical disk of Figures 4A through 4C,

5, 6A, 6B, 7 and 8. The optical disk having a dispersing part which randomizes at least a part of a phase of the laser beam incident by way of the disk base member.

C. Species C has the special technical feature of detecting tilt aberration or coma aberration of an optical disk having a dispersing layer by utilizing the beams dispersed from the dispersing layer of Figures 9 and 10.

D. Species D has the special technical feature of detecting the tilt of an optical disk which does not have a reflecting layer by detecting a tilt aberration or coma aberration in the reflected beam by utilizing a wavefront controlling device which controls a wavefront of the laser beam irradiated onto the recording layer such that a defocus aberration or a spherical aberration is increased of Figure 11.

E. Species E has the special technical feature of detecting the tilt of an optical disk with a recording layer configured to pass at least part of a laser beam that has been irradiated through a first disk base member of Figures 12 and 13.

F. Species F has the special technical feature of detecting the tilt of an optical disk with an incoming beam optical system which allows the laser beam irradiated from the light source to be incident onto the optical disk with a first numerical aperture and an outgoing beam optical system which allows the reflected beam from the optical disk to be received on the photo detector with a second numerical aperture larger than the first numerical aperture of Figures 14A, 14B and 15.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
